

Who are the tutors?

In recent years, we have developed a partnership with Oakland University. OU has agreed to provide our Saturday School program with dozens of pre-service teachers, to tutor and mentor our students. We also have a large number of tutors made up of Seaholm and Groves NHS students. It is truly powerful to watch our BPS students take a leadership role and become a teacher and a mentor. We take pride in empowering students to help other students achieve their academic goals at Saturday School each week.

"Creating a caring community of learners"

Saturday School is sponsored by BPS and the Birmingham African American Family Network.

Saturday School serves as a successful intervention that works towards closing the achievement gap within our school district.

Please consider sending your child to Saturday School, which serves as a valuable intervention for all Birmingham students. We believe firmly in creating a caring community of learners at each and every Saturday School session. Please visit our website below for more information.

Saturdays are meant for Learning!

When does it take place?

Each session begins with a guest motivational speaker and/or a welcoming activity that encourages students to reflect on their educational process and strive to be their personal best. From about 9:15-10:55 a.m., each student will be paired with a tutor. At 10:55 a.m., all students in attendance will come back together to discuss what they learned for the day.

Time: 9:00-11:00 a.m.

How can you help?

We ask that students who need a tutor bring a $3 donation each week to help us be able to provide breakfast snacks and drinks each week.

If you are interested in becoming a tutor at Saturday School, no prior communication or commitment is needed. All you have to do is show up at Berkshire Middle School's media center on Saturdays at 9:00 a.m., and we will be sure to get you set up with a student who needs tutoring.

Students need help with all subjects! You don't have to be an expert on a specific subject to become a tutor. We actually encourage our tutors to learn alongside the child they are tutoring. This is when learning is at its best!
